

LITERARY NOTES.

A new novel by George Macdonald, "The Marquis of Losse," will be commenced in an early number of Lippincott's Magazine. It is related to his previous story of "Malcolm."

Mr. J. N. Larned is publishing, through D. Appleton & Co., a series of "Talks about Labor," in which he discusses especially "the evolution of justice between the laborers and the capitalists." He makes an especially good plea for the "divided" system of paying labor.

T. C. Pinckney of this city issues the third edition, for 1876, of his United States School and College Directory, containing a list, by states and towns, of the leading educational institutions of the country, with names of the principals; a map of the Eastern portion of the country, showing their location; descriptions of many of the towns, and many advertising matter concerning buildings. The pamphlet is printed by the "National School Bureau," Domestic Building. It is likely to serve the purpose of several classes who need such information.

Robert Carter & Brothers have nearly ready for issue the seventh volume of "D'Aubigne's History of the Reformation in the Time of Calvin." This volume treats of the Reformation in Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Hungary, Poland, Bohemia, and the Netherlands. The same house has nearly ready a little volume by Dr. William Patton of New-Haven, entitled "The Judgment of Jerusalem Predicted in Scripture and Fulfilled in History," in preparation a volume of discourses by Samuel S. Mitchell, D.D., of Washington, editor of "The Mason and Webster's American Library," and two volumes for young people by the sisters, Miss Joanna and Miss Julia Mathews, the story by the first entitled "The Broken Mallot and the Pigeon Egg," and the second, "Uncle Joe's Thanksgiving."

SCRIBNER & CO., New York.

Among many other readable articles, this number contains:
NOTES ON SALMON FISHING, by A. G. WHITING. The first of a series of popular articles, by different writers, on American sports. This paper is illustrated with nearly 30 engravings, carefully prepared under the supervision of the author.

BEDS AND TABLES, STOOLS AND CANDLESTICKS, by Clarence Cook. Another of Mr. Cook's widely read and very suggestive papers on house-furnishing. The present article treats of the Bed and the Dining-Room, and is strikingly illustrated.

MASSACHUSETTS AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE (Illustrated), by E. H. Libby, is one of the most interesting and important in the Scherzer College Series, and presents the subject of agricultural education in a light which will be new to most readers.

JOHN CHINAMAN IN SAN FRANCISCO, by Thomas J. Vivian. The Mongolian question is now assuming political significance, and this paper, so fitting as it does with interest, its facts to regard to the condition, numbers, occupation, merits and tastes of the Chinese in California will be found of interest. Those desiring a fresh presentation of the domestic phase of the subject are referred to the September Scherzer.

IN AND ABOUT THE FAIR, by "Ick Marvel." The second of Mr. Mitchell's charming papers on the "Centennial."

THE BRIDE OF THE RHINE, by Col. George E. Waring, Jr., concluding Col. Waring's delightful papers descriptive of a ride of two hundred miles in a Model Runabout. The present paper has a number of engravings, illustrating some of the most beautiful river scenery in Europe.

There are also some spiritual chapters of the serial story:
THAT LASS O' LOWRIE'S,
BY PANNY HODGSON BURNETT.

And a short story, the scene of which is laid in New-York,
THE MAN WHO LOST HIS NAME,
By Prof. BOYSEN, of Cornell.

AUTUMN TIDES. A charming paper, by John Burroughs, POEMS, by Mary Mapes Dodge, Richard Henry Stoddard, and R. C. Myers, &c., &c.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENTS are, as usual, full and interesting. In Home and Society, P. T. Quinn gives some timely directions about Fall planting, and Brie-Brave continues the story of "Kev," and an amusing dialect sketch called "The Old-Time Religion."
